

SECURE DESTRUCTION

Secure Destruction Service

Secure destruction services are legislative driven and were designed to protect your confidential and sensitive documents from accidental or intentional viewing by unauthorized individuals. Many companies are being forced by law to develop strict records management practices surrounding these types of records and their destruction path. To manage these records properly, a company must ensure secure disposal of its confidential and sensitive documents.

At DataSafe, our focus is to provide a secure destruction methodology via receptacles that are secure and cost effective. Our Secure Destruction Service assures that confidential and sensitive documents are destroyed before the recycling process (it has been found that recycling without prior destruction provides ample opportunity for unauthorized retrieval of confidential and sensitive information). Once destroyed, the material is compacted and mixed with other data, making it virtually unidentifiable. The combination of security containers and confidential destruction provides an unbroken chain of custody prior to the recycling process.
